Hillrock Solera Aged Bourbons- Hudson Valley, New York

Hillrock is the first American whiskey to be aged in the centuries-old solera method used traditionally to create excellent Sherries, Ports, Madeiras, and Cognacs. Solera aging involves a pyramid of barrels where a small portion of whiskey is removed periodically from the lowest tier of barrels and an equal measure of new whiskey is added to the top barrels. No barrel in the Solera is ever emptied and over time, the older whiskey in the Solera mingles with younger whiskeys to create unmatched depth and complexity. The whiskeys are finished in 3 different barrels, listed below, that add a multitude of floral notes layered with dried red and black plums, fig, roasted walnuts, candied orchard fruit and spicy rye.

Sauternes, 1er Cru Barrel Aged #40.....	$28
Shea Vineyards, Pinot Noir Barrel Aged #5.....	$28
Dakota Shy, Cabernet Sauvignon Barrel Aged #21.....	$28
